

David is recognised as an executive leader with over 25 years' experience within the fast moving consumer goods space where he has demonstrated proven successes at managing and growing businesses in dynamic consumer markets. As an authentic communicator David is passionate about developing high performing teams that foster a culture of collaboration.

Prior to his most recent role as CEO of McWilliam's Wines, David was the General Manager for the Australian Division of the Lactalis global dairy business and previously held executive roles across other FMCG business such as Red Bull, Campbell Arnott's and Lion.

