

I am a Partner in KordaMentha's Sydney Restructuring practice, having worked in all of KordaMentha's offices throughout Australia, currently based in Sydney. My extensive experience includes executing financial restructures; operational turnarounds; formal insolvency; sale of businesses; and various forms of dispute resolutions. This has been across a vast range of industries including mining, mining services, property, construction, retail and financial institutions.

Our team shares the ethos of helping our clients to grow, maximise and protect value. I have a genuine passion to succeed for clients in their most challenging circumstances. My clients admire my clarity of thought in distilling the complex into a methodical strategy to achieve their objectives. My clients would say that I have an inclusive approach and a leadership style that drives outcomes with a balance of empathy and an unwavering focus on winning.
