

Richard Johnson

Richard Johnson is a partner with the Ashurst Australia's restructuring, insolvency and special situations practice.

Richard's core experience is in debt restructuring and corporate insolvency. Richard has practiced in that area since 2003 and services a loyal client base that includes directors, creditors, financiers, corporates and corporate finance / restructuring practitioners. Richard advises on both formal and informal restructuring, insolvency and turnaround engagements and regularly provides advice on the insolvent trading safe harbour regime, creditors' rights and security enforcement and distressed acquisitions and disposals. His practice encompasses both consensual and contested debt restructuring matters.
